INSIDE HISTORY OF THE WAR

CLOSING IN OF ENTENTE ALLIES ON GERMANY-AUSTRIA

Official French Review Of Two Years' Fighting Begins to Show Results

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 29.—"The second year of the war ends with anxiety shifting from the group of the entente powers to that of our adversaries who are now obliged to meet a general offensive on every front," said Marquis de Chambrun, a member of the foreign affairs committee of the Chamber of Deputies, in summarizing the military situation for the Associated Press at the close of the war's second year.

"While French, British and Russian preparations become more complete, a crisis of exhaustion is fast arising for the Austrians and Germans. Our adversaries thought it would be impossible for us to prepare, and certainly during the first year of the war there were difficulties that had to be overcome. We are proud to say that this was accomplished even while our valiant soldiers were resisting the German invasion.

"The Russians are continuing their work successfully on the eastern front. They have again invaded Bukovina and are pushing forward in the region of Lutsch and into the Carpathians, while Grand Duke Nicholas is advancing victoriously in the Caucasus."

From various critics and experts on military affairs expressions have been obtained from which the military situation, according to the French view, may be summarized as follows:

The extent of the difficulties of the central empires does not even now appear from the state of war viewed from a geographical standpoint, but has shown itself in the changed tactics in evidence and is becoming obvious in the altered map. The operations of the Franco-British armies, outnumbered in men and guns during the first six months, saved France by sheer heroism, but could not end the war; could only prolong it and gain time. The Russians pushed into East Prussia, conquered Bukovina, invaded Galicia, crossed the Carpathians and even threatened Silesia, but exhausted their armament in April, 1915, and lacked even the essentials for defense. The Germans knew it would be impossible for Great Britain and France to have caught up in nine months with the Germans' 45 years' preparations and felt themselves free, dealing first with France, to turn upon the Russian armies. Nine divisions transported from the Franco-British front reinforced the Austrians and the offensive against the Austrians began in May. By the end of July, Przemyśl and Lemberg had been retaken and the Russians were considering the abandonment of Warsaw and the line of the Vistula. Short even of rifles, many of Emperor Nicholas' troops defended themselves with clubs during the long retreat in which was accomplished the second miracle of the war, the continuity of their line being every-

PRIZE SHIP APPAM RETURNS TO OWNERS

United States Court Decides Bringing Vessel Into American Waters Unneutral

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Va., July 29.—Federal Judge Waddell decided the libel proceedings for possession of the British line Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew which brought her in. The court held the German government lost all legal claim as a prize of war when the crew brought the ship here into neutral waters with the intention of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

The court also held that the Prussian and American treaty of 1799, renewed in 1823, applies not to any guarantee for a prize crew asylum in United States waters; that the jurisdiction of the United States courts is established by many decisions, including the supreme court. The court declares the bringing of the Appam into United States waters constitutes a violation of neutrality.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Federal court's decision regarding the Appam confronts the government with the task of deciding on the disposition of Lieut. Berg and his prize crew. It is expected the decision will be carried to the supreme court on appeal.

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 29.—Two strong German detachments attempting to reach the French lines west of Verdunville, on the Somme front, were repulsed.

In the Verdun region two German attacks on a redoubt in a ravine south of Fleury were checked. The French progressed in the Thiaumont region. In the sector between Fumin and the Chenois woods the artillery duel continues.

DEATH FROM HEAT WAVE IN THE WEST

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 29.—Little relief from the intense heat is held out by the government forecaster. The area of low barometric pressure is reported gradually dying out and moderation of the temperature is a dubious possibility. Lake breezes tempered the heat slightly today. Deaths here increased, twenty-six being reported between 6 o'clock this morning and noon.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 29.—A wave of barometrical high pressure originating in Canada and sweeping down the St. Lawrence valley interposes an effectual barrier between the heat wave in the middle western states and the Atlantic seaboard.

RESCUE-EULA LOOKING BETTER THAN ANY TIME SINCE DISCOVERY

Rescue-Eula is in better physical condition today than at any time since the discovery of the ore lens that created a sensation a few months ago. This fact is established by a visit to the property, where several hours were spent in close inspection. The workings in ore in the property consist of an east and west drift from the point of intersection by means of a crosscut run north from a drift extended easterly from the shaft on the 950 level. This drift was run only about twenty feet from the intersection point west in the Eula claim, because the value lessened, besides the east end line of the Occidental claim of the Belmont was about reached. A raise, known as the No. 2, was put up at this point and connection made with the Belmont workings, affording an excellent circulation of air and relieving the intense heat which previously prevailed. The drift was extended easterly 200 feet, making slight curvatures to keep both walls of the vein in sight. At no point did the vein pinch or lose its values, although at one or two places it narrowed for a short distance and had several comparatively lean places, although practically no waste was taken from this working, the only discarded rock coming from the winze.

Raises Nos. 1, 2, 4 and 5 are east of the point of intersection and all are in ore their entire height. No. 5 raise, which is only a few feet from the face of the drift, is extremely interesting. It was sent up at the angle of the dip of the ledge, 45 degrees, but it soon pitched to about
